

DRIVEN OFF IN ONE ATTEMPT TO RAID THE SUBURBS OF MANILA, JAPANESE RAIDERS RETURN FOR A "QUICKIE" BOMBING ATTACK UPON NICHOLS FIELD; EVACUATE CITY

By International News Service

MANILA, Dec. 9.—Driven off in one attempt to raid suburban areas of Manila, the first try at bombing the Philippine capital itself, Japanese raiders returned today for a "quickie" bombing attack upon Nichols Field, Army air base blasted by Nipponese explosives yesterday.

The first raid, which came last night, was driven off by American interceptors, but the attackers returned at 3:09 a. m., Manila time, sneaking over the field and dropping their bombs. They were already streaking away when the air raid alarm was sounded.

Two fires were started by the bombs, but they were extinguished quickly and damage was negligible.

The city of Manila was being evacuated by thousands of its residents today. Much of the acceleration in the stream of evacuees was due to last night's abortive raid upon the suburbs. Horse drawn carriages, buses and battered old autos jammed main streets leading to the interior of the island of Luzon.

Meanwhile military authorities sought to confirm reports that Japanese troops had landed on tiny Lubang Island, 65 miles south of Manila Bay.

U. S. Wants Soviet Air Bases

Washington.—The United States government, responsible quarters in Washington revealed today, wants Soviet Russia to grant the American air force the use of air bases in Russian Far Eastern territory for action against Japan.

There are strong indications in official quarters that such Russian support in the war against Japan will be one of the first questions to be taken up with Maxim Litvinov, the new Soviet ambassador.

British Ambassador Lord Halifax is understood to have discussed the matter with Secretary of State Hull late yesterday. Great Britain plans to join with the United States in urging Russia to lend its support to the united front in the Pacific.

PLAY SANTA CLAUS TO 350 WARDS OF COUNTY

Probation Officer Miss Gertrude Bright and Her Aids
Are Kept Busy

GIFTS STACKED HIGH

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 9.—"Playing Santa Claus" to 350 wards of Bucks County is not an easy task, as Miss Gertrude Bright, Bucks County probation officer, and her assistant, Miss Maude L. Wagner, can verify.

Busy for the past several weeks, the two have seen that shelves and tables in the probation department offices in the administration building are stacked high with gifts. These will be distributed to small boys and girls, and to women who are under Miss Bright's care.

Three clerical workers, Miss E. Claire Homer, Mrs. William Good and Miss Edith Hill, will be kept busy wrapping, checking and triple-checking so that Santa Claus can make no mistake.

About 350 individuals, including dependent children in private boarding homes, boys and girls on probation, women on probation, and boys and girls in institutions, will be thrilled on Christmas morning because Miss Bright or Miss Wagner have "played Santa Claus."

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS CONSECRATED SUNDAY

New Reredos, Hearing Aids,
Organ Amplifiers, Doors
Placed at Perkasio

ST. STEPHEN'S EDIFICE

PERKASIE, Dec. 9.—Consecration of improvements in the St. Stephen's Reformed Church occurred here at the morning service yesterday.

The improvements, the cost of which approximate $1500, constitute donations from individuals and several organizations of the church. The improvements were completed without cost to the church treasury.

Dr. H. M. J. Klein, acting president of Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., and head of the Department of History at that college, preached the dedicatory sermon at 10.30. St. Stephen's choir, under the direction of Miss Marion I. Miller, rendered the anthem, "The Pillars of the Earth Are the Lord's," by Tours.

The Rev. Howard Obold, pastor of St. Stephen's, occupied the pulpit at the evening service.

Among the improvements are a new Reredos, attractively carved and canopied and finished in dark oak. The new reredos replaces a painting. Another improvement is the hearing aids installed in six pews. This improvement consists of a microphone concealed in the chancel and connected to a miniature amplifier installed in the pews. Worshipers with impaired hearing may use the amplifier with perfect results and return the amplifier to its place in a receptacle built in the pew. In addition to the hearing aids, the organ and chimes have been amplified to permit programs to be heard within a reasonable distance from the church.

New doors have been hung at the main entrance on Sixth street, and at the choir entrance.

PURCHASE PRICE, $6,500

Money Advanced By Burgess
Anderson and Purchase Made
Through A "Straw Man"

Borough Council, last night, authorized the purchase of approximately 55 acres of land, where it is proposed to develop a new source of water supply. Title has been acquired and to assure the consummation of the purchase, Clifford L. Anderson, Burgess, advanced the sum of $6,500 paid for the land.

An ordinance was passed by Council, last night, and the proper officers were authorized to affix their signatures, by which the borough will reimburse Burgess Anderson for the money he advanced.

The ordinance was presented to Council by Louis C. Spring, chairman of the Water Committee, who informed Council that the purchase of the land had to be made quickly and through a "straw man," so as to protect the interests of the borough. He then explained that Burgess Anderson had advanced the money and that the title had been procured.

The property purchased is at the intersection of the Frankford and Bristol Turnpike and Rogers Road, and lies between the Frankford and Bristol turnpike, Rogers Road and land of

PORTION OF RADCLIFFE STREET IN FRONT OF FLEETWINGS PLANT TO BE CLOSED TO TRAFFIC; BARRIERS TO BE ERECTED

Burgess Clifford L. Anderson Today Will Issue A Proclamation
Declaring An Emergency—Guards To Be Stationed at Street Barriers and Will Admit Only Authorized Persons and Employees—Parking To Be Prohibited On Both Sides of Pond Street.

Burgess Clifford L. Anderson today will issue a proclamation declaring that "due to an emergency" all traffic be prohibited on Radcliffe street, from Monroe street to Green Lane, except that which will be permitted by guards of Fleetwings, Inc., and prohibiting all parking on both sides of Pond street from Mulberry street to Adams Hollow Creek.

Prohibiting traffic on Radcliffe street from Monroe street to Green Lane is done to safeguard the big defense plant of Fleetwings, Inc.

Not allowing parking on either side of Pond street from Mulberry street to Adams Hollow Creek is due to the congestion now existing on that thoroughfare, which is expected to be further increased by the diversion of traffic from that portion of Radcliffe street in front of the Fleetwings plant.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas, by reason of the unprovoked and dastardly attack made by the Japanese upon America, its citizens and possessions, Congress has declared a state of war to exist between the United States and Japan, and the President has so declared, and

Whereas, "Fleetwings, Inc.," situate in the Borough of Bristol is engaged in the manufacture and production of aircraft parts and accessories necessary for and to be used in the manufacture and production of airplanes and aircraft equipment, now so necessary to be used in the defense of our Country, and

Whereas, the plant of said "Fleetwings, Inc.," abuts upon Radcliffe Street in the Borough of Bristol, a much travelled public thoroughfare of the said Borough, and

Whereas, by reason of such location the plant of the said Company is subject and susceptible to enemy attack from the said Street, thus requiring the closing of the said Street in part for the protection of said plant, and

Whereas, as a result of the closing of said Street in part, public travel and traffic will be diverted over Pond Street, thus greatly increasing the volume of travel upon the said Street.

Now, Therefore, I, Clifford L. Anderson, Burgess of the Borough of Bristol, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested, and pursuant to the action of the Council of the said Borough, do hereby order and proclaim:

That on and after Wednesday, December 10, 1941, and until further proclamation, Radcliffe Street from Monroe Street to Green Lane, shall be closed to travel and traffic thereon and thereafter, and I do further proclaim that there shall be no parking on Pond Street from Mulberry Street to Adams Hollow Creek.

I call upon all citizens to comply with the terms and provisions of this proclamation, which is issued and promulgated in pursuance and by virtue of action taken and adopted by Borough Council.

In this hour of stress and peril to our Country I call upon all citizens to come to the aid of their Country and defend it from the unwarranted and unprovoked enemy attack, so that the integrity and security of the United States of America and the freedom of its people shall be forever preserved.

CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON,

Burgess.

TULLYTOWN, Dec. 9.—An important meeting of the Tullytown Volunteer Fire Company will be held this evening in the fire station. Officers for the ensuing year will be nominated.

HOME ON LEAVE

Walter Hardy, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Quantico, Va., spent five days last week with his mother, Mrs. Samuel Hardy, Harrison street.

Borough Council, last night, took action closing Radcliffe street from Monroe street to Green Lane to all traffic, other than that permitted by guards of Fleetwings, Inc., to pass through. Barriers are to be erected at once and guards stationed at both ends. Only the cars of employees of Fleetwings and authorized visitors will be permitted to enter the restricted area.

The action was taken by Council upon the request of Fleetwings, Inc. W. E. Strang, director of personnel for Fleetwings, was extended the courtesy of the floor by Council and stated that if the request was granted that Fleetwings would have the barriers erected and would station the necessary guards. Parking will be prohibited within the restricted area on Radcliffe street.

The request was made so as to afford better protection for the Fleetwings plant. The matter has been under consideration for some time but with the declaration of a "State of War between Japan and the United States," immediate action was requested. It is a recommendation of the F. B. I.

With the closing of a portion of Radcliffe street Council reasoned that more traffic will be thrown into Farragut avenue and Pond street, and therefore action was taken requesting Burgess Anderson to declare a state of emergency and prohibit parking on both sides of Pond street, from Adams Hollow Creek to Mulberry street.

The Pond street parking problem was called to the attention of council

Judge Boyer's Father Dies; Nearly 100 Years Old

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 9.—The funeral of Dr. Benjamin F. Boyer, father of Bucks County Judge Calvin S. Boyer, who died Sunday within five months of reaching 100 years of age, will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. William H. Witte, two miles east of Springtown.

There will be a viewing on Wednesday evening from 7 to 9, and interment will be made in the Springtown Cemetery the following day.

Dr. Boyer, a country doctor of the old school, practiced medicine in Springtown for 40 years, beginning in 1870. He was born near Kriedersville, Northampton county on May 2, 1842. He secured his preliminary education at a seminary at Charlottesville, N. Y., and at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster.

At the end of his freshman year at college, he helped to raise a volunteer company of soldiers upon the President's call for 500,000 recruits. It became Company F, 202nd Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, of which Dr. Boyer was elected second lieutenant and served during the last year of the Civil War.

At the close of the war he studied medicine in the office of a practicing physician in Northampton county and then completed his medical education at the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York City, and the Long Island Medical College.

Dr. Boyer married Anna C. Trumbower, of Weaversville, Northampton county, who died in 1907. They had six children who grew to maturity: Emily B. Long, Doylestown; Elizabeth Witte; Howard F. Boyer, civil engineer, who died in 1926; Judge Boyer, Doylestown; Carrie A. Melchor, who died in Syracuse in 1935; and Nellie G. Boyer, Utah, who died in 1908.

IT'S A SHOP JOB

Because war may involve economic and social stagnation, it may be poor consolation to say that out of the present emergency some actual benefit may accrue to the nation. Yet the statement of William E. Wickenden, president of Case School of Applied Science, that the defense crisis is creating a marked shift of public interest and educational emphasis toward the technological field is good news indeed.

It is only necessary to look around to see the truth of his observation. A large percentage of the nation's manhood files into defense factories to build or operate the machines which turn out airplanes, tanks, guns, ships and the thousand-and-one items which this arsenal of democracy is committed to produce.

These men are learning through experience that manual labor is not something to be looked down upon, to be avoided at all cost, or to be deprecated because it is not done with a white collar on and in an office chair. The grease under their fingernails, the callouses on their hands, the sweat that trickles down their faces constitute a badge that is to be won and worn only through the recognition of the inherent dignity of physical labor. It is a badge to be proud of, for nothing is more honest or decent than the earning of one's daily bread through work done with one's own two hands.

For too long a time this nation, as a result of the theories of well-meaning but misguided parents and teachers, has encouraged the harmful and dangerous myth that "white-collar" jobs are more desirable than jobs in factories. In recent decades the emphasis in most schools has been on the "white-collar preference." Such a program is a menace to the nation's well-being. The defense program is helping to wipe it out.

SANTA FOREVER

Indissoluble with Christmas is the spirit and presence of St. Nicholas—Santa Claus—the symbol of happiness, of the outpouring of generous hearts. Santa Claus is not merely a person of round and ruddy face, framed in snow-white whiskers, his form gaily caparisoned in crimson and silver, a light-hearted old gentleman with a pack on his back stored with toys for little children.

Christmas is the time of youth and happiness and gaiety, the time of children, and for the little lurking springs of childhood remembrance which should lie within all human hearts. Inevitably it is dedicated to children and to all who think the clean, sweet, unselfish thoughts of trustful youth.

Santa Claus is no nebulous dream. He is a real and living personality, showing from the happy faces of those who believe in Christmas in its truest sense, living and working in the hearts of those to whom giving is a joy, almost a selfish gratification, because they themselves derive from it such a warm pleasure.

Pitiful are sour cynics who see in Christmas only its commercial aspects, the high cost of gift giving, and the perversion of the Christmas-giving spirit into a sense of obligation.

On days that Mussolini isn't reshuffling his "command" or otherwise trading horses in the middle of a stream, it shouldn't be taken for granted that he is out of the stream.

For fully a minute Meredith stood looking at her, his eyes full of pity, for he knew how hard it was for Anne to relinquish the priceless jewels. He walked slowly across the room to where she was standing and, very gently, passed his hands over her shoulders, undoing the catch at the back of the necklace. He took the emeralds from her neck, and balanced their glittering length over the palm of his hand as he gave her a little bow and said, "My thanks, Madame."

The next moment he had gone from the room. Anne de Vassignac swayed, then folded up in a crumpled heap upon the floor.

It was a particularly warm, sunny morning when Sir John Meredith and Ives Blaydes-Steele sat in the back of Lord Lanchester's limousine, which was drawn up in the courtyard of Buckingham Palace. Both were resplendent in morning coats and silk hats. They were smoking and talking lazily.

Just ahead of the car in which they were sitting was a stupendously magnificent vehicle. It was pure white in colour with a golden radiator cover and fittings. On the panels of the glossy doors was a coat-of-arms depicting a strange dragon swallowing the sun . . . that was the emblem of Sulungu's ruling house. In this car sat the portly little wizzur fanning himself gently with a lovely painted fan.

Suddenly the door into the building at their right was thrown open by one of the Palace footmen, and His Highness, Buna Thalan, Dwan of Sulungu, came out into the sunlight. He was dressed from head to foot in pure white, including the tiny squat pugaree affected by his people. From his neck hung the emerald necklace, the big green stones in it now numbering one hundred and two.

Behind him came George Lanchester, resplendent in scarlet and blue with quite a lot of gold about him here and there, and behind him came two Sulungu guards who were accompanied by a plain-clothes detective from Scotland Yard.

A big cloak was thrown over the Dwan's shoulders, its folds partially concealing the priceless jewel which he wore. He came down the three short steps and put a hand through the open window of the Lanchester car, grasping Meredith's hand.

"You won't forget, Sir John, that I'm looking forward to meeting Lady Meredith over the week-end at Paddock Wood?"

"We won't forget, Dwan sahib," smiled Meredith. "My wife's looking forward to it."

"So am I," replied Buna Thalan. "You're very kind," murmured Meredith as the young sultan bowed and passed on to his own car.

George Lanchester climbed into the back of the limousine still moving his right leg rather stiffly but beaming all over his face. "I'll never forget this, John," he said.

"No," agreed Meredith, "it has been an exciting morning."

"I mean," went on the earl, "what you have done for us."

"George," said Meredith with mock vehemence, "would you like to do something for me in return?"

"Anything in the world," replied Lanchester seriously.

"Then for Sulungu's sake, let's go somewhere where I can get out of these infernal clothes, and where you can buy me a long, strong and very, very cold drink!"

Viola Monaco Listed in "Who's Who in American Universities"

JENKINTOWN, Dec. 9 — Twelve Beaver College girls will be listed in the 1941-42 issue of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," a book to be released in January.

This publication is published through the co-operation of over 600 American universities and colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees, and dues. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudiced committee, for their biographies to appear in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

The purpose of "Who's Who" is to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers; as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done; as a recommendation to the business world; and as a standard of measurement for students.

Miss Viola Monaco is one of the 12 girls selected. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Monaco, 173 McKinley street, Bristol. Miss Monaco has served as treasurer of her class, on the Sophomore dance committee, in the Laurel Chain, as treasurer of student council, in the honor court, and is now president of the Student Government Association. Miss Monaco is majoring in the liberal arts curriculum.

Children, ranging in age from one year to 18, will share the gifts.
